GOVERNOR DUMMER ACADEMY
BYFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS

DEDICATION

The quality of the faculty and the quality of the students are equally integral parts of any successful educational institution. There is one man at Governor Dummer who, while serving as an example of an outstanding faculty member, greatly determines the excellence of the student body. Here, within this man, is the proper blend of dedication, efficiency, and a sublime sense of humor that so qualifies him for his position. Undoubtedly, he created our first impressions of Governor Dummer, and we trust that he will continue to exhibit that personal capability to future students. We like to think that his able judgement as Director of Admissions has contributed significantly to the present standing of the school. The Senior Class most respectfully dedicates the 1968 MILESTONE to John James Witherspoon.

SENIORS

"True support in all aspects of school life"

WORDS OF ASSURANCE

There is no doubt that our class has had its differences and numerous cut sessions (e.g. senior grill), but there is still a unique unity that has helped us to push each other through the last four years. It is true that most of us have acquired Mr. Dubocq's well termed "slash of survival," but as another famous Emerson once said: "It's only good clean American fun." For the sake of the Grande's and Limey's of the world I hope you'll take it to heart. Anyway boys, by the time you read this we'll probably be on the next banana boat to South America. So, take it away. . . .

"Gee Dad, it's the neatest thing I ever had"

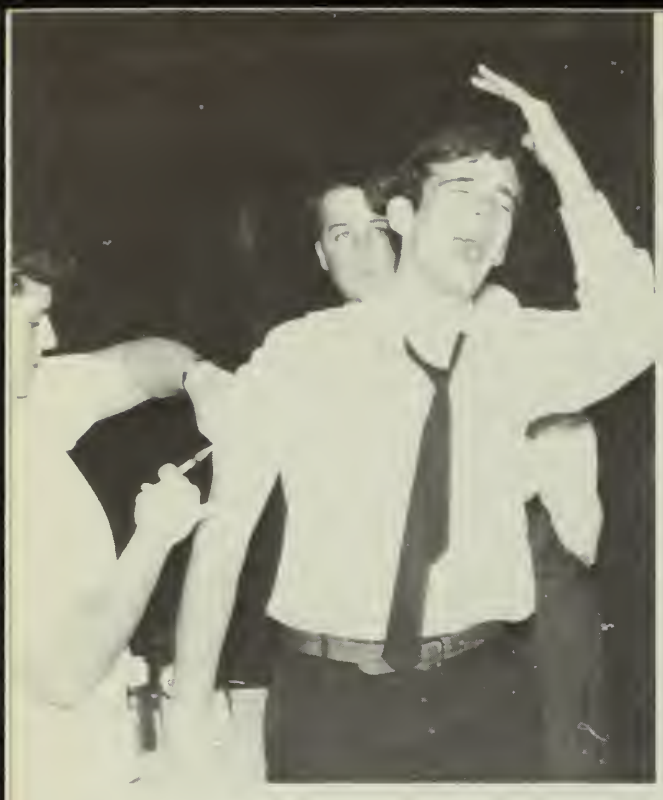
"D. H."

"Deebs"

"I use less handkerchiefs"

"Grande"

"You've gotta keep the growth goin'"



"Dum Dum"

"Jay Jay!!!"

"Limey"

"This is my greatest hour"

"I gave at the office"

"Willie"

"Anyone for poker . . . "

"Teddy Bear"

"Mitch"

"Me, forget you?"

"I try to lead by example"

"Bee"

"Does anybody know I'm here"

"Coves"

"We needed that much for the first down, so I said to the coach, I said . . . "

"Tuck"

SUAVE . . . DEBONAIR

"Dogie"

"So what, she liked me"

"So you want to be a preppy?"

"Trux"

"All my family went to"

"D. U."

"If I wink, poof--20,000 volts"

"Gentle Ben"

"Harley"

"Howie"

"Yeah, but my mother loves me."

"Spud"

"No you do not make me afraid with your pyama suit!"

MEN OF THE WORLD . . .

"Let's see, K is King, J is . . ."

"Slurp"

"Beel"

"Roget"

"Mon, eet's real metapheesics."

"Pyama"

"Tom"

"Wanna see a boss patch of rubbah?"

"Jimsy"

"I quit league because I was growing intellectually stagnant."

"There was this sign, see, . . . 'Super-Bodega'; so we stopped, see, . . . "

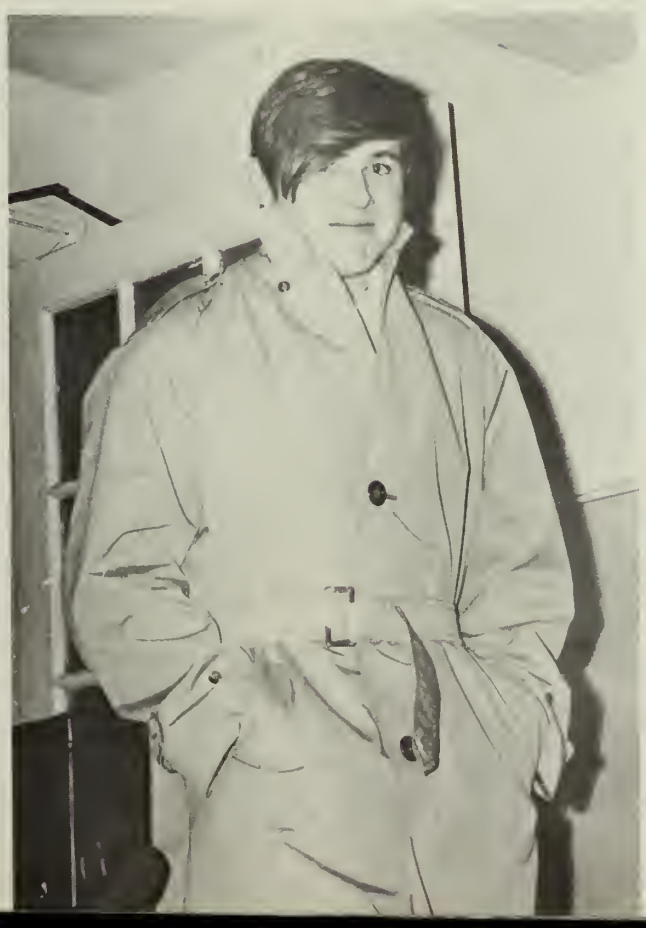
"Griff"

"Just think, Adolph was only this tall."

"Hubies"

"It's my handy-dandy Inspector Clouseau outfit"

"Pablo"



"B. C."

"Oh, if Linda could only see me now!"

A UNIQUE CONSCIOUSNESS . . .

"Lordie"

"They taught me up on Perkins Two"

"Legume"

"Look, he's going to drink it!"

. . . AND AN INTENSE SERIOUSNESS

"Oh, Mr. Eames

"Boom Boom"

"Gowa"

"Arrrrooooouuugghhh!"

"Melts in your mouth, not in your hand."

"Ned"

"Oh, you sincere guys kill me!"

"Tones"

"Pa Tater"

"Ted"

" . . . and all I've got to do is act naturally."

"Unbelieveable"

"Sully"

"Señor, you've got to be kidding!"

"They better throw me a party when I get back."

"Hal"

"Pig"

"I'd get more done at the B.P.L."

"Jocko"

"See that, nothin'"

"Sowlesy"

"Want to see the Milestone room?"

"It's ma knee"

"Chuckie"

"Barks"

"Wilson, I think the Governor Room is on fire."

"Is that all I get for my lousy birthday."

"Boots"

"Murph"

"Bon Ami"

"Olmey"

"And now in parting . . . "

"One and a half more turns and it'll be a world's record"

"Jay"

"Rick"

"This is nothing compared to what you get at the A & P."

"Yeah, Tucker, hit'em again"

"Puss"

"Evan"

"That's the only way to travel."

"Pole-ack"

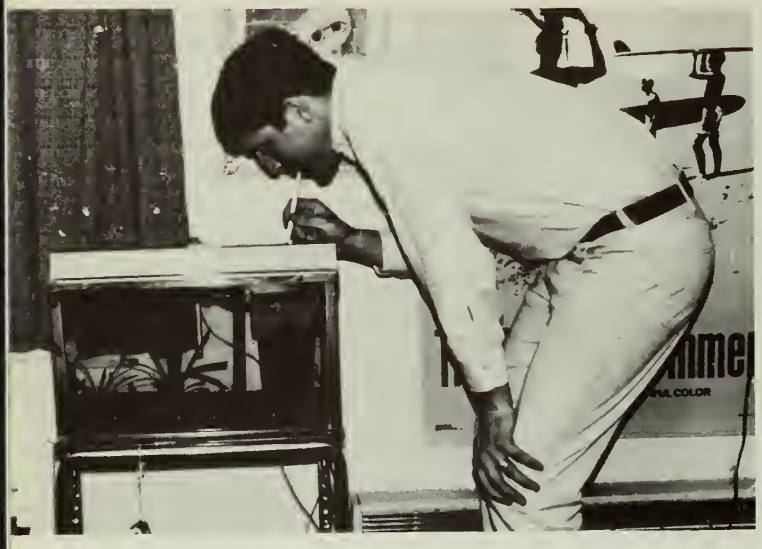
"Tell her I'll call back."

"What's this about dead gorillas."

"Veg"

"Yeah, but Beel cooks his!"

"Bubba"



"Jimmy"

"Bubba gets the fish"

"Winnie"

"Snort, snort"

"Murph"

"What about dayboys"

"Somebody say that they wanted to race."

"Simon"

"Nat"

"Oh, John!"

"Captain Veasey, to you buddy!"

"Art"

"C.F."

"Sorry Rick, but we only allow U.C. in the Library.

"Eh, eh, Sex!"

"John"

"John"

"Oh, Nat!"

. . . UNYIELDING AMBITION

"Squeak"

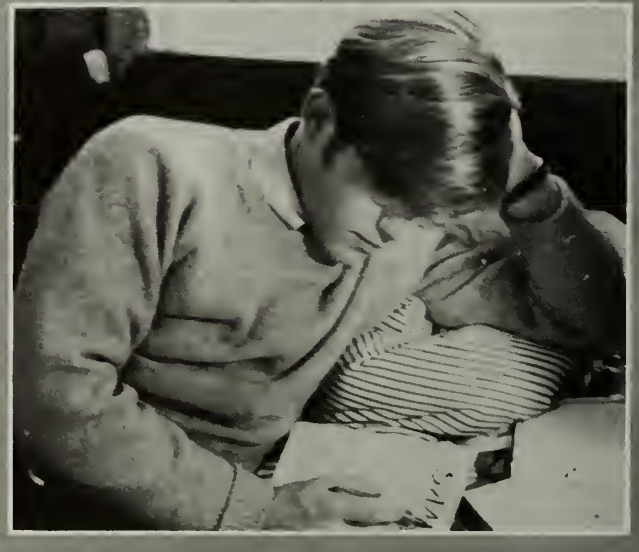
"Now I lay me down to sleep"

"Har"

"Well, Aristotle was better anyway."

"Oh, those poor defenseless females!"

"Parkie"



"Joe"

"No, it's not my roommate's name!"

"Nervo"

"I heard you're new here' would you like to be my friend?"

"Buddy"

". . . and if I sleep through History too, I'll be able to play hearts all night again."

"To those who died serving Blum, Schlesinger, and E. A. E.

"Bob"

"Levs"

"I don't care what she looks like, no more blind dates!"

"Bart"

"This summer they say they want a casino"

"Nnnyyeah, Cathy is a college girl."

"Uncle John"

"Why me?"

"Vincent"

"Joey"

"It's a living"

"Gowa's locked in the freezer"

"Squat"

"Watch it, fella; or it's thumbs down for you.

"Bernie"

"Ross"

" . . . 89, 90, 91, . . . "

"Goose"

"Well, up at the Goose we use them to keep our ears warm."

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The publication of the 1968 Milestone is the product of many long hours by the board and staff. However, we would like to recognize several others who lent their special talents to our own endeavors:

Mr. Douglas Miller, whose photographic ability and advisory experience was invaluable to the production of the book.

Mr. Richard Weir, our American Yearbook Company representative, who assisted us in all aspects of literary publication.

Mr. Roy Hult of Hult studios in Melrose, whose most excellent photographs appear throughout the book.

Mrs. Marjorie Rouisse for keeping our meager accounts in perfect order.

Miss Louise Lovel, Miss Sylvia B. Lunt and the entire administrative staff of Governor Dummer for their special assistance.

To the parents and patrons who provided the necessary funds for what we hope will be a lasting edition.

FRESHMEN

Well, we arrived confused, bemused, and apparently made everyone else quite confused. Those of you who have been through it all probably don't remember as vividly the fear and doubt involved in asking an obviously sadistic-minded senior or a hostile monster how to get to the dining hall from the Cobb room. But, having gotten lost between French, English, lunch, and Ambrose, we began to know each other.

For one thing, we found that there were some self-appointed freshmen stars, including 'Fatty' Frost. John Etnier thought he was a hippie, and 'Beer' Mattison opened Room 21, the Ambrose bar. We even managed what we later found to be the perennial two inches of water in Ambrose Hall. Foobar got himself campused after three weeks; unfortunately, we lost Dan Lyne after a few weeks, but the D. L. Memorial Relief Center is a constant reminder. Hewlett, what are you doing in the bathroom!!

This winter the proctors almost got Chip Morgan to go to dinner at 5:30 . . . A.M.! Billy Frost had a little run-in with the vacuum cleaner at 10:30 P.M. Phippen says Pony Hockey had a perfect season, but Mason was only 99 44/100% pure this year; what happened? Wellman sent his underwear sailing out the window late in the evening!

This spring we drowned the class of '68 and Mr. Wilkie had to put a stop to it. Pony Baseball won 5–3 and the opposition pitched a no-hitter!! Moody and Ambrose have found squirt guns just the thing. All the same, outstanding achievement speaks well for the future of the class of '71.

SOPHOMORES

Everything looked the same this fall except . . . "Hey look! There are guys smaller than us!" Then they started telling us we had "Sophomoritis," whatever that is! Classes were worse than ever until straight arrow, yet to be president Mitchell, asked Mrs. Martin to point out something on the wall map. Rumor had it that Jack Cutler starred as Larry Mondello earlier on Leave it to Beaver. Senior proctors do whatever they like, "Because we're seniors!" Nuf said. Bam Bam found Italian power too much for him despite all his sundry loves.

Winter wasn't too bad, but they tell us there will be heat on Commons II next year. Laps & lay up drills all afternoon we could take, but crewcuts Mr. Hamblet?! Elephant Hyde made Varsity Hockey and Hawk was a big gun on Varsity B-Ball. Mark did all Larry's Spanish and still found time to read Officer Factory twice! . . . "No Twig, I don't want to wrestle." The Winter term ended with two-thirds of Boynton II on smoking pro!!

Spring opened early this year and so did the swimming team. But it's not fair! We were thrown in last year! Mr. Evans gave his boys an excuse to stay in after dinner . . . they were fixing Lacrosse sticks. Had quite a few slaves for a couple of weeks. Farmhouse opened its own superheroes club! . . . "But sir, we were on the roof taking pictures for the Milestone!" Spring Prom wasn't bad. Rumor has it that Chris was really in the process of finding a mate for his skeleton when O'Leary tripped up and got them a ride to the Topsfield barracks.

Some are actually trying not to slack off in these last two weeks. Some have jobs, others girls. But everyone has one thing to look forward to . . . Chitty Chitty Bang Bang is comming!!!

"Juniors are 'Mod' ".

JUNIORS

The first thing about junior year is graduating there, and we made it in pretty good shape with a little help from '68 of course. Our class is a natural definition of success (what else?), a lot of diverse talent and spirit. They wanted us to have a lot of freedom to develop on our own, especially over at JBO's and Duffer's Ingham Country Club. This moderation of supervision made for an occasional casualty throughout the year, but that's part of the game. We learned the concept of No-Doz as the essence of life early in the year, with no help from Physics of course which guaranteed only one hour of homework a night at the most (if you already had a PhD). Among '69's original touches were Guenther and his Kosher Grill and our Latin American contingent in Ingham, not to mention a very original if not expert starting block man and originator of the hurdling mask at GDA.

Rumor has it that there is a Gink running around.

Tenny tried hard to get a monopoly on all team captaincies for next year, but they only let him have three. Over at Pierce, everyone was getting corrupted, especially the youngest member of the notorious butt club, "Hey, Jeff, where's Marbles?" And the ultimate conservative force in the class fell when Forbes failed in white glove inspection because of pistachio shells. Vege finally decided during winter term to follow the better life outright and migrate north. His influence was still felt during spring term though. Charlie B. Worthen mutated to "Yank Smith" as he will always live in our minds.

Forbes, O'Leary, and Bond were voted to aim the motley spirit of the class of '69 towards the more sober and constructive goals of the senior class, with the divine reassurance that CARLO THE DOG LIVES!

EX OFFICIO '68

Perhaps as equally as the many whose pictures appear on the preceeding pages, these men helped to shape the many directions of the Class of '68. They have left us, either by force or by choice; some remain to lead future classes. That does not matter, though. The true importance lies in the memories we will have of them on a solemn June 1.

CLASS HISTORY

SO YOU WANT TO BE A PREPPY!? Ya, cause you might be. Oh, doo be a Govie!! The life of the Governor Dummer student has commenced. There is no flash of neon or blare of city bustle; only the peaceful serenity of the Byfield retreat, exciting, huh?? Amidst the pop and hiss of assorted water balloons and shaving cream cans, 1968's finest "men" arrived within the clutches of the great Milestone. An era has begun: "P-ching."

Where to start? Bernie and Pig in one room, a good place. Bruno Samartino never had it so tough. Wannop and Spang, too; if Mr. Witherspoon only knew what he had created. Fortunately, Carl (walk it off) Bernsten managed to break his leg in pony mashball and Wannop's arrow proved too straight for the more rambunctious C.F.

"There is no such thing as a bad boy." Madden gets kicked out of Moody for the year. Carpy singlehandedly demolished the sophomore class with a mere bunch of apples. Pig and Cam turn the stone garage and Ambrose pond into transcendental retreats. Holes in Raymond's wall kept appearing? Hugh Hefner opens a few campus branched casinoes under the auspicies of the 68er's. Madden, again, stars as he routes a flash flood into JBO's study. (This one will kill you!) John Wannop, Walt Disney's very own creation, actually stayed over four days of Christmas vacation on detention!!!

Freshmen year is the time for lasting friendships and lifetime habits. Lapenzo met a gypsy moth, Doggie the Ghandis, and skateboards were tripped over by everyone. Plato ingeniously learned how to exercise his finger in Latin class, and even Mr. Martin found a new friend.

It seemed as if the sadistic, stoned faced seniors would eat you alive if you didn't clean up the butt club and Charlie Lee's bedroom for at least a month. The pond casualties were steep along with those who froze trying to get to breakfast from Ambrose in the Winter. Somehow though, the gang managed to clear the first hurdle in good shape. With assorted pigs and doggies and Ghandis our class personality sounded more like Animal Farm, but Carpy and Zelda miraculously got us through the first year.

Open, act two. Warning, a strange and highly communicable disease known as "sophomoritis" is proliferating throughout Byfield! No survivors were reported! The class of '68 was hardest hit.

The new pledges of Commons II and III opened their first official evening at GDA with a brisk jog down to farmhouse for excessive noise; using all their talents they somehow ended up in Mr. Anderson's dining room in the middle of dinner! Segnor Collins and Pa Tater replaced Bernie and Pig as the evening wrestling attraction. Unfortunately, they were among the fearless five that chose rather to leave than switch. Other great encounters included Hubies and Booby in a one punch, third floor special (it took five guys to tie Burt down when he got involved); Charlie specialized in Sunday punching anyone brave enough to contradict him; and in another vernacular, there was Jake and Lotus Blossom (how you go Umpi Cake), while Barry S. got to know Doris and the local traditions.

Perkins quickly became the campus social center. A truly aesthetic retreat where the distraught GDA man could spend a quiet afternoon in a local smoker with the other chaps, a friendly grapple with his compatriots, or a leisurely gob war with all comers. However, Pleasure was not the only product of this campus institution; for the hallowed (and narrow) halls of the campus' only traveling building were especially conducive to intellectual pursuits. Ask Big Dan about the advanced physics needed in setting up a perfect shaving cream trap on someone's door-knob; the bio-chemistry used in operating the infamous copper coil wonder that was so close to all of our hearts; the criminology applied by Surfer Bill while trying to get back into his barricaded room. Who says Prep school doesn't prepare you for later life!!

Meanwhile, back at Commons, the rats continued to be undaunted by the shaving cream on the toilet seats and the coffee grounds in Gowa's bed. Our friendly exterminator, with free samples for all, came and left us only with quiet walls and a powerful aroma. Gowa worked insanely on his version of the SST, but it never got off the ground—rumor had it he was really sniffing the glue. Parker perfected his toothpaste gobs, and Burt sold his record player for five cents to foil Mr. James, who managed to get into the act with his "Next time I'll dump your drawers out the window, routine." Lord did finally get the pencil out of his head, and Mr. Griffin finally got tired of coming upstairs.

Elsewhere, Jay Black became inseparable from his teddy bear, while the rest of Boynton III capitalized on their 50¢ grape sodas. Every one in Cottage tried to beat Benny in ping-pong, and the Farmhouse crew stayed reasonably stable under the iron hand of Maier and Heald, ha! All regretted the Spring Dance fiasco, and nobody's date ever really believed our lame excuses. No more mixers were planned with House in the Pines, but we were let off on good conduct with a free day and some spare time.

The year was highlighted by the great blackout. The true GDA ability to reason intelligently came to the rescue: "Did you hear, SAC is on red alert, we're at War." "It was a massive earth quake, Boston is wiped out." "I just heard on the radio, it was UFO's." Five minutes in the darkened Cobb Room and you'd want to commit hari-kari!

Our third shot of the GDA "experience" brought on the pressures of college expectancy and the levity of everyone living in a few major areas. It was a year of coming and going: Plato and Lapenzo left us, but Homer the pigeon adopted Ingham; our paragon of the golf course, Carpy, could no longer be seen lofting his club out over the 6th swamp, kicking his bag down the hill, or popping his tee shot off the club house roof; however, our Amesbury buddy visited (more like cased out) our rooms often and information tied his personality to that of the infamous Ingham burgular; Jake proved that the common bird had more power than any eagle and took a little vacation, but we were graced with Uncle John and Bubba.

DEGENERATION BEGINS AT THE President

"D" Ogg

Diversions from the daily routine were never hard to find. Wallace's "coffee" parties highlighted the evening, while B.S. Poker in the Big Club took over the daytime slot. Locking doors became the "thing" early in the year: Booby locked all of the superheroes out, Charlie involuntarily locked himself in, and almost everyone's door would fall on him when touched. Big Dan's family ice cream and U.C. became part of the regular diet, while green jello needs no elaborate discussion (with or without a phone in it)!

Happiness to the junior was a stuffed room on a cold winter night or all his furniture removed for spring cleaning; going to bed at 10:00 was frequent on Ingham II, and Gowa balls turned up everywhere; Rico and Vease pinning Big Dan was tops, and almost anytime of the day, one could catch Surfer Bill clubbing Uncle John, strangling Tucker, or merely beating Gowa with his shoe. One of the biggest attractions though turned out to be watching JBO put the XKV through its paces in the parking lot!

'67 was the year for endurance; records were broken in all fields. John Williams had the most continuous hours (53) and quickly followed up with a consumption record of six contact pills—his retirement special. The chivalry prize goes to Uncle John for his rescuing of fair maidens from window wells, while Doggie reaps mechanical honors for the fine work done on the T.V. set. We all know Grandé Dan is the greatest lover, but the author will never venture to name the greatest superhero—Zeus excepted!

Amidst proliferating yellowbirds, our class personality finally developed to its fullest extent; "Superheroes, supervillains." The raw marauder, being the era's innovator, emerged as the most prominent with only his pillow case and beer mug as instruments of terror (look, if this guy came into your room at 3:00 AM with only a pillow case, you'd be scared)! He was not unchallenged for long. The Grusome Twosome, The Gila, Dandelion Man, the Fly, The Kiss (no comment), and The Avengers to name but a few decorated JBO's bulletin board with assorted threats and challenges during the year. There is a tendancy for me to elaborate on the many epics of this era in Byfield History, but this author would only do injustice to Mr. Ogden's personal history of the entire year given at the senior dinner; no one will ever forget his immortal words "excretion!" No fatalities resulted, but the innocent bystanders escaped only after many gallons of water and cans of Foamy had been expended. As departure time arose, the R.M.'s fatal words could be heard ringing over the Byfield mosquito grounds: "I shall return Willie Wong, I shall return."

Last Lap! "Where are you applying?" "D.U., of course." Senior responsibility didn't take hold too strongly, but it was there, somewhere?

A time for discovery: Phillips finds the kitchen. Buddy gave the cop a D.T., and Limey gave guided criminology lessons. Mr. Sperry's take some and leave some theory worked great on Pus' three foot bologna, but even walkie talkies couldn't help Gowa and Scott in their life of kitchen crime.

Thanksgiving was spent on the Utica Club trolley; only after a term of briefing though. Seniors discovered the BPL, the Hawaiian, the Statler, the Nip, the Sheraton, day permission, and how to enjoy weekends (Monday might be hell, but so what!). If you asked where a senior was going on his weekend he say either Parker's house or some college.

Senior torture began with college applications. "If I mail it tomorrow special delivery, I'll only be post marked 2½ days late." Poetic license is one thing, but "President of the dramatics club and captain of the squash team stretched the point. Where to go: Harvard, Stanford, Princeton, or Cape Cod Community College.

On the lighter side, the junior personality continued as our leader, Grande, spread stories of life on his ten-wheel diesel ice cream truck; and told us to be on the alert for it anywhere in the country this summer. Ah, but Christmas vacation—twenty days of respite.

Winter term brought the realization that one must start to study if said person is to enter a real college in the fall. Winnie opened his lounge, which offered the best in evening entertainment. Shay's trail of debris back to Perkins each night testified to his great wit and excellent agility. "D" Ogg's Monument to Mediocrity opened in EEU, where idle hours were even more idly spent. The Hawaiian was discovered by the wrestling team this time at the end of the sesson and will always be a pearl in the hearts of the '68er's. Another vacation and another trip to Utica (along with another tangle of demolished automobiles. Hey, Harold)!

Unpopularity in political office set in as "forget your friends" (Known affectionately as FYF) took hold of our senses, while nightly commando raids on the underclassess didn't really hold up very long. We continued our fine record of discipline with our entrepreneurial talents at the Walnut Hill Mixer (compliments of Peter Wallace).

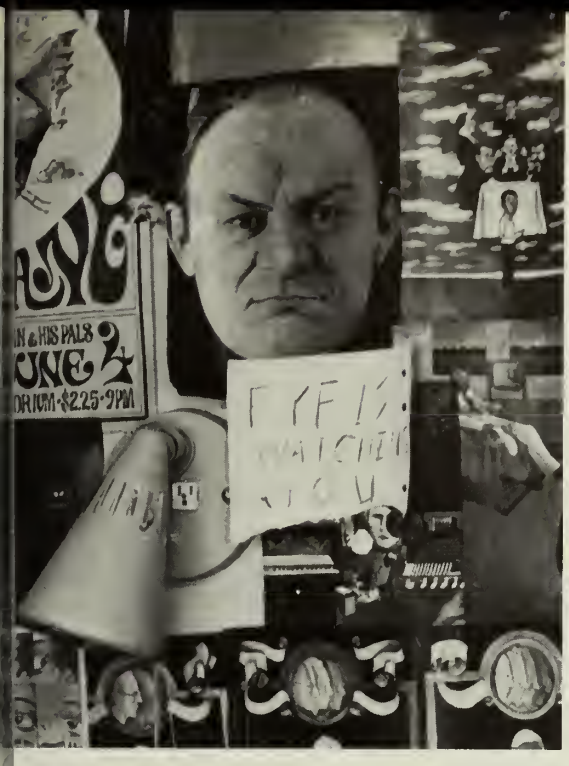
As a few early acceptances began to trickle in, rumors filtered around the campus that GDA was moving its grounds to Elbow Beach. Then, in the middle of March, vacation hit again, and the seniors made the Logan Airport Hotel their new Headquarters between Byfield and Bermuda.

Spring is supposed to effect the minds and hearts of every young man; in GDA terms this means it's a time for pure degeneration. However, the new marking system canned all that, but fortunately as always, their were no graduation fatalities: they came in another vein. Squat Enterprises came into being and visions of profit danced through every head in Phillips. Then several heads were lopped. We all mourned the loss of six great guys, but college notices changed pity for a little self-sympathy. The legend of the thin letter was born anew. Two-thirds made it, but the remaining third had to walk around campus clutching waiting lists in sweaty little hands. Big Dan will testify to Mr. Stone's proficiency in last minute scrambles. D.U. was the obvious winner in the '68 popularity poll.

Those "thoughts" of Spring began to gell as the Spring Dance became a reality. Dan Ogg specialized in building and demolishing volcanoes, while Ricky Schiess preferred to line up multiple dates for his weekend encounter. All went well, with only Pa Tater suffering from a case of aftereffects.

Nostaligia set in as the senior functions began to quietly phase the class of '68 out of the Byfield retreat. At the dinner, our favorite JBO characterized us as "a bunch of good guys" (some extremely lucky ones too, note B.D.!), as illustrated in his white paper on the Writings of the Super Friends. Excretion!!!

Our class prank will go down in history as the most uniquely engineered—pity only about 12 people ever viewed the great switch. Madden and Spang pulled a traditional move by borrowing a Goviewagon, and Golf Course flags and chapel bells were added later. (compliments of the Ogg brothers)



Ah, Canadian Joy!

The big dinner went real well. Amidst the setting of typical Govie food and relieved parents the Meistersingers sang the year to an end (touching, huh)? We all got diplomas, generally with the wrong name on them, and the speech was the shortest in history. When we thought the last hurdle had been cleared, there was a pile up at the great wall and a few bloody graduates were added to the alumni list. If you are wise mail five bucks to Web Dann now, or he will haunt you wherever you attempt to go!

Appendix: As this article was written generally at our Canadian senior party, the authors assume no resonsibility (nothing new about that) for any connections to historical fact—any character resemblances are purely coincidental. Thanks to Uncle Sam, you probably won't be reading this until mid-November as he conveniently misplaced half the book in the depths of the Boston postal annex, but don't try to retaliate until the 50th reunion. Madden and I caught the first banana boat to Utica a long time ago.

If I were to date this little exposé, the figures would tell the whole story. Quoth, Mr. Miller: "You guys broke all the records, 'for lateness!!'" What do you mean we're a thousand dollars short." "Shut up Wannop." "I want my book tomorrow, Kangis." "You can't print that!" Everyone had to contribute some crack.

Seriously though, every aspect of our great class "personality" was represented in the board. Sowlesy may have reaped all the honors—he was the only one crazy enough to stay up with me all the time—but Jay, Ned, Scott and all the rest were just as irreplaceable, even Wannop!

I know the academy will see its best book to date, if it ever goes to press that is, and there is no belittling the effort put in by everyone. We even brought in emergency help from Pingree's elite editorial staff (note TDB)! A sincere thanks to Mr. Miller for putting up with us, and to the entire board and staff for a really dedicated job.

As the Milestone can be characterized by its date of publication, the Governor's reflection is found in the fact that a Milestone editor is writing their article for them! (In all fairness, I won't even mention photography!)

Actually, Wilson and the boys did do a truly outstanding job on their own. Talk about personalities: The all time record holder for free terms, a Somker high priest, a frustrated intellectual, two hippies, a big-chinned truck driver, a Southern conservative, and a Gowa! And they call this a major school activity!

The ideas were new, and the paper presented a long needed vitality to its readers. From breakfast cuts to the biography of a preppy, the Governor analyzed, criticized, and even invented many of GDA's newest innovations. Somehow Big Butch managed to embezzle the profits to the Spring Dance Committee, so the grinder supply ran a little low in the Spring; but Wil still managed to leave next year's editor, whoever he is, with a tough literary standard to maintain. As a cohort of Wil's, I can thank the whole group for him, not only for their long nights in the immortal dungeon, but for their great literary contributions to this season's yearbook.

From our own campus den of iniquity came the publication everyone had given up waiting for. Seems like White and the boys were up there all the time, but buried under effigies of U.C., little progress was made.

As usual, Marvelous Madden the Literary Machine was summoned and presto! —the school saw its most original and imaginative literary magazine to date.

FALL

Coach Christopher Martin took over the Varsity Soccer team this Fall when "Buster" Navins stepped down after 30 years of strong leadership. From 60 candidates Mr. Martin chose 28 mostly young and inexperienced boys. Captain John "Emie" Emerson sparked the team early in the season with a spectacular save of a penalty shot by Nobles to give the team its first win 1-0. In the following game against B&N Paul Gares retaliated for their score with a tying corner kick, but we were unable to follow up this comeback. A hard break came in the game against Brooks when Emerson was eliminated for the season with a fractured arm, but he provided the leadership and spirit to push the team to subsequent fine performances. His place was filled by the surprising League goalie, Rick Scheiss. Against St. Marks, remarkable first-year starter Josh "Howie" Burns scored by heading ball and goalie in toto into the cage. Senior Paul Gares and junior Jack Connelly were tied as high scorers and supported by M.V.P. backs Steve Murphy and Dan Ogg. Next Fall's co-captains Sam Johnson and Tim Tenney will lead 12 returning lettermen in a promising season.

FOOTBALL

1967 saw one of the best Governor Dummer football teams in recent years. Although the season started very slowly, depth and morale carried the team to a 3–2–2 record. Coach Anderson got some assistance from Mr. Evans and Mr. Gosse and, weilding such memorable comments as "Holy titmouse . . . you missed that by a gnat's eyelash" and "you guys can go in now, but the tough ones will take another lap," the team was put back into shape. Without co-captain Tucker though, the Big Red dropped their first game to St. Sebastian's in the last 30 seconds, 8–7. A win at B&N and a nightmare at Moses Brown with 150 yards lost in penalties passed before Coach Coupe returned from his visit with the Army. All season tickets for the nickel bleachers were renewed. A tremendous desire to improve the record and especially to give Coach Anderson the game ball sparked the team to a 20–16 victory against Milton. Exemplary of the 100% effort of the team that day were Marc Tucker and Cam Smith who set new school records. Much matured after the Milton game, the Governors gave their best effort of the year against Belmont Hill. Playing the best that they had met, the Red controlled the ball most of the game and the defense kept Belmont's offense nicely in check. The team had to accept a 20–20 tie, but they left no regrets on the field that day. And of course a record was made at Belmont when 'Grande' Dan Look took off his helmet 28 times during the game. The 1968 football team will be led by Peter Borneman and Billy Strider, hopefully with the same success that the Governors had in 1967.

CROSS COUNTRY

Spirit was the most important factor in the success of this year's Cross Country team which boasted only three returning lettermen. Unfaltering drive, despite early losses, spurred the squad to three straight victories. Taking the first ten places, the Governors shut out Milton providing the needed momentum for succeeding wins. Captain Trux Hulbert, who placed high in the Class B Interscholastics, generally finished first for the Governors with Jon Smith taking second. Hopes of a 500 season ended with a loss to Lawrence despite a superior showing by most members of the squad. Starting with Milton and performing well throughout the season, Hugh Williams settled down as a steady third for the team. Kurt Mingledorff turned in some good times, usually finishing in the top five; and freshman letterman, Bill Philbrick, shows promise for the coming year. Seniors were responsible for the serious, hard-working attitude of the team. They found an outstanding captain in the excellent leadership and performance abilities of Trux, and Jon's devotion provided encouragement for the younger members of the team. Next year's team is looking forward to a strong nucleus of Williams, Mingledorff, Philbrick, and J. Sullivan, one of whom will be elected captain for '68' next Fall.

WINTER

BASKETBALL

Governor Dummer basketball has in recent years made its showing at the very top of the league; so that the 8 and 8 record of a building team in '68 seems comparatively unspectacular. What the record cannot show is that senior letterman "Dum Dum" Cox was out for the last three games with an ankle injury, and that we lost the last four games of the season by a total of seven points. With a relatively inexperienced team and a new coach, Christopher Martin, the first few games were marred by a fatal lack of unity, despite the fact that the team wore black sneakers, exclusively to identify one another! Against Groton the Governors began to show promise with a 20 point victory and Coxie's crowd pleasing passes. Too bad

Tucker was only allowed to shoot in the warm-ups. The new cry was "let's keep our winning streak going." St. Mark's delivered a shock to the team so that we proceeded to take Mo Brown in the final minute and Freddie defeated Brooks in overtime. Big Red trounced Milton as Teddy scored 19 in the first half, and against St. Paul's Schaef's clutch free throwing almost pulled us through. Winter Weekend came and Art Schultz stayed in training! B-ball's managing statistician, Billy Dego, had fathomless enthusiasm for the team as the B&N game approached, but the Governors fell in the final second. There was fantastic spirit all the time though, and next year's team will be led by a well seasoned Fred Lang.

WRESTLING

Despite an estranged basketball plot, the wrestling team wore white sneakers this season. Their idea was not to be noticed, but rather to be hidden. The white served to hide the fancy footwork of the Big Red. You didn't see any, did you? Little Chris Barker never really had to weigh-in before a match because it is common knowledge that his clothes weigh more than he does. Rick Schiess was the most anemic captain that Mr. Evans would care to meet, while Carl, "Little Gladiator" Berntsen was the inspiration that kept the team sparked during the season. He really enjoyed the new wrestling room because "It kept the team on ice." Leo Barrett had a little extra help from the coach during his matches. He only got a take-down when his opponent was listening to Mr. Evans on the sidelines. Deni Keeney had the distinction of being the only man on the team to knock out two men during the season; an opponent and himself.

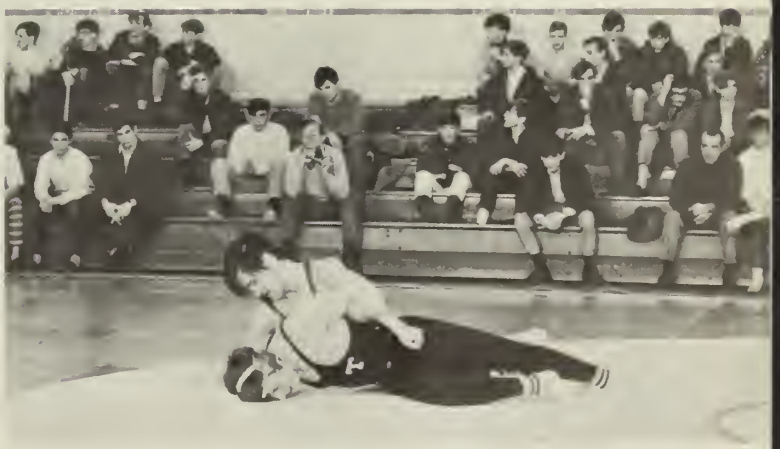
Wrestling Interscholastics
110 lb. Champion—Christopher Barker

Bubba Barbaro's only comment on the season was that it got an extra lift from having a life-time supply of Ned Lattimes. C. F. Spang? What's he doing in the New England Finals?! Cam Smith's confused; "Let's see. Game-bag, sneakers, socks, uniform, warm-ups, . . . anything else?" Jay Shay couldn't understand why he didn't get trial bouts like everyone else. As for the new wrestling room, it just goes to show you can buy anything on time these days. Bruce Young had the distinction of never being pinned by an opponent, while Carson picked up most of his moves from Channel 9. Finally, all that "Ben" Gay could do looking back on the whole season was SMILE!



HOCKEY

"Go team go" was the call this year for Varsity Hockey and go they did! It was a year of firsts for the team that polled an impressive 5–11 record. The Big Red beat the returning Alumni for the first time in history, and they beat Brooks for the first time in five years. As a matter of fact, this was the best team G.D.A. had produced in five years. Soft-spoken Steve Murphy scored a record 11 goals for the season; and Chuck Johnson, despite a nagging knee injury, put out for 48 hours on the ice.

Captain Howie Burns countered Mr. Eames' constant plea; "Burns, throw away that curved stick!", with "But Sir!" Despite the handicap of his Northland Custom Pro, he earned the distinction of M.V.P.; but he didn't dare ask for permission on the way back from St. Marks. The whole team did ask for more "morale building" games with the M.I.T. Frosh, though.

Steve Levings did an unbelievable job stopping the searing shots of Belmont Hill. He got along fine with the coaches, but Mr. Coupe didn't get along too well with him. Goalie Chip Sargent did a great job too, and he was great camera material!

Over all, the Governors had a satisfying season. Most of the games they lost were close enough to have gone either way. Spirit was never lacking. Coach Eames got so excited with one game that he got a penalty, and he never touched the ice! Co-captains John O'Leary and Tim Tenny will lead a promising team next year with Cutty Hyde, who can cheat better than Babcock, and sneaky little Mike Fish.

WINTER TRACK

Winter Track at Governor Dummer means you either have to run in the cold or face the rides to the Exeter cage. It provides a very trying and unique experience for any who choose to brave it. The season went something like this in the winter of '68. Track announcements on the bulletin board . . . leave for Exeter practice at 3:15 sharp! Pollak's Tootsie Roll Pops . . . Captain Doogs and Coach Mike . . . injuries take toll and Olmie leaves; Veasey new captain . . . "Gares, when are you going to start running?" . . . Hudson brings car jack instead of starting blocks to Exeter . . . Exeter meet—Wong jumps 5′ 5″ and Gares takes the broad jump . . . (Mr. Sperry) "Veasey, if you were only fast!" Tabor meet is first win and Emory takes the mile . . . the new Limey fills in for Olmie . . . Veasey finally gets a first as we capture a second win . . . Sargent and Pa Tater—real trainers . . . 5th place at interschools as Carrel gets two third places and the 600 record at 1:17.4 . . . "Nobody walks, everyone talks" . . . (Doogs) "6 feet, but I just nicked it on the way down." Mike Terry elected captain for 69 . . . Simon Carrel gets MVP . . . there is still no cage at Governor Dummer.

SPRING

LACROSSE

This year's Varsity Lacrosse Team capped Mr. Evan's 100th victory with their win over Winchester. He always began practice with the optimistic cry of, "Put the supposed shooters on the Cage!" We boasted the world's three fastest humans, Emerson, Follansbee, and Eshelman, running the man-in ride. Tenny and Coughlin took the dirtiest player awards during ground balls. Everybody wanted to know "Who's that flashy looking guy in the white ducks and the red shirt?" No, you're kidding! Well, it's St. Paul's Spring Dance weekend. Big Dan made a heroic face save and then, Spring Dance Weekend the backline dropsies. Wannop's war cry did very little for his facing off. Leonard, the notorious cage misser, finally scored, but Lord stepped into the crease to try to hog the glory. Fig Bar let fly three shots this season, and actually came close against Tabor. The loss of Sam Johnson and Bruce Coughlin really hurt our strength in the midfield. The Little Gladiator and Bambi were neck and neck all season for the starting spot on the attack. St. Paul's: "Have you ever played Lacrosse before?" Carl Spang and John Wannop were co-winners of the M.V.P. Award; while D. H. Hayes and Jay Worthen shared the Senior Lacrosse (with an "e") Trophy. Tim Tenny and Sam Johnson will lead a promising club next year.

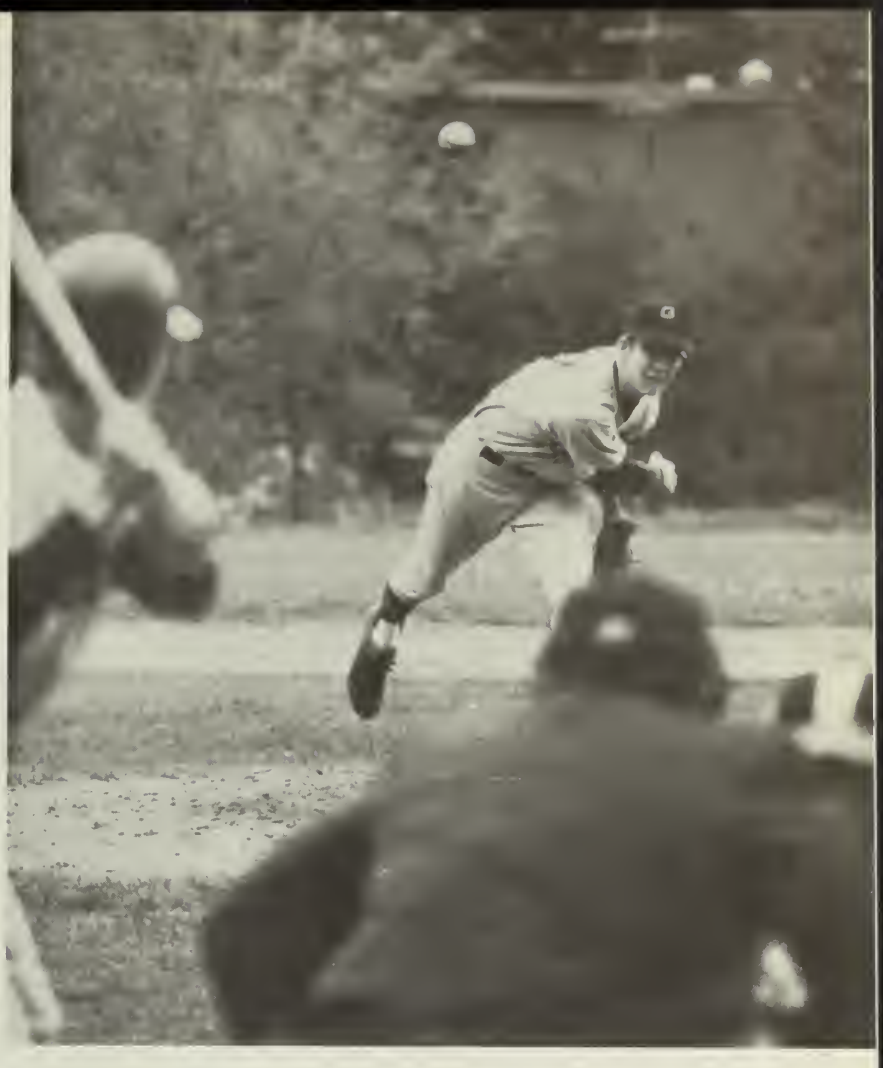
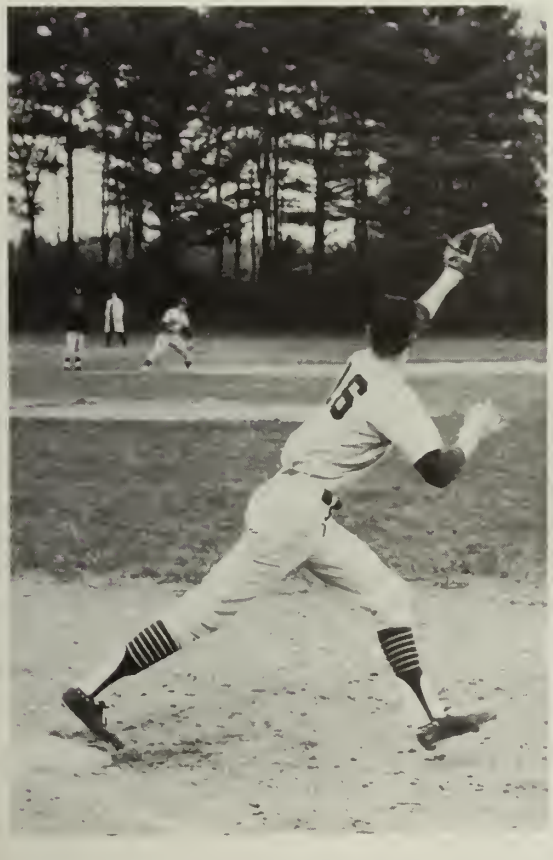
BASEBALL





The Governor Dummer Varsity Baseball Team opened with an encouraging 20–6 win over Rivers. Two games later, The Big Red put together their finest effort in a 5–2 victory over Browne and Nichols.

The team was unique to say the least. How many baseball teams have a manger who goes around singing, "Ron Swoboda, Hallelujah!" During batting practice, Coaches Coupe (catching) and Dubocq (pitching) constituted the only whale battery in New England. Just because Slinky led the team in stolen bases, don't let that fool you. Nobody had the breakaway speed that could match the quickness and agility of Maury Mutchler. Our pitchers could always get their encouragement from third base: "Hum, Baby Wayne" or "Hum, Baby Ell". Gunther was the only shortstop in the leage who fielded more balls with his nose than with his glove. At St. Sibby's, not only did Jon Nelson lose a contact lense; but Mike Miller, chasing a long drive, caught his spike on a maneating fence. It had to happen. On the way to St. Marks Coach Coupe got a ticket for speeding. We didn't have an impressive win-loss column, but we had fun.

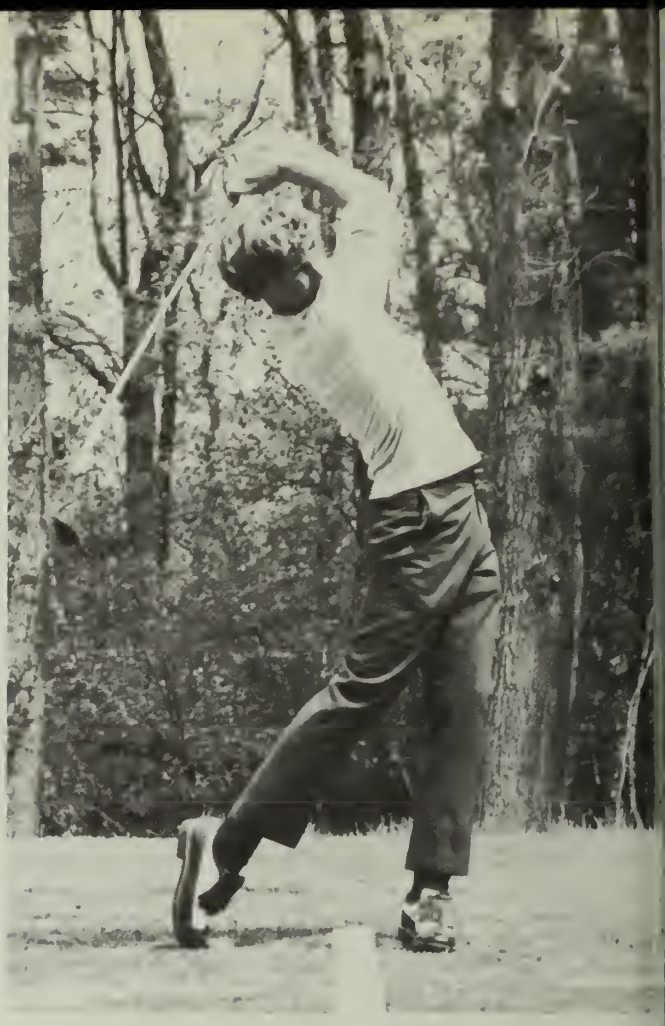
GOLF



The Varsity Golf Team repeated the performance of last year's strong squad with an impressive 4 and 2 season in dual meets and a disappointing second place behind Exeter by only 3 strokes in the annual Andover Exeter Tri-Meet. We were a team of personalities—no golfers, just characters! Captain Bob "Bart" Martin with his array of shoes and crazy bounces; Blasting, Blazing Tommy Jacobs and his super swing; Ace Pierce, the quiet Bomber in the back row; Dum Dum Cox and his fiery rounds and big wins; Captain to be Andy Tarlow with his big drives off the first tee; Steve Murphy with the echo of agony, remembered by all golfers; Artie Schultz, the paragon of temperance, and the innovator of the run-up drive; Harry Kanigs, began with a Harry Ball, ended with a charge; These are personalities!! Between the challenge matches, watching Bart Balls, and playing with Mr. Bond the season became progressively more interesting. Coach Witherspoon may have better records, but never a brighter attired and more spirited team. Sober Up!

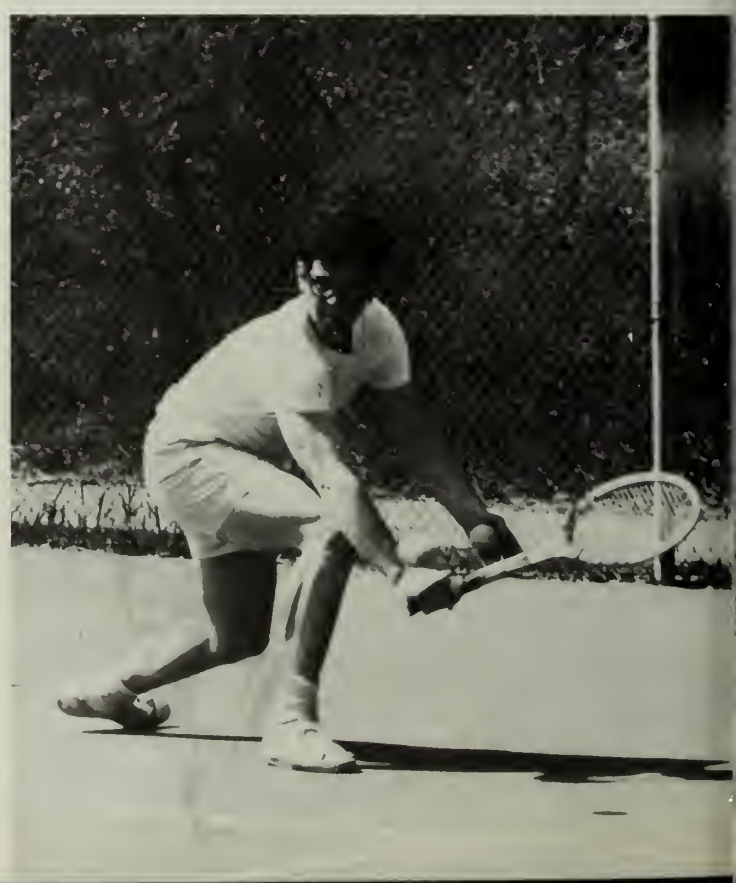
TENNIS



Most of the GDA tennis team departed with the class of '67 at graduation last spring which didn't do much for our forecast this year. The only thing to do was add three more new juniors to the ranks making the ratio 6 to 2 in favor of the underclassmen on the team. Captain Benjamin was convinced that the best way to come out on top with a junior team was to inspire a lot of enthusiasm, but "Bert, when you're running up for a volley, don't forget to stop!" Spirit paid off when we dumped Milton for the first time in school history and when Benjamin and Brooks took Groton's number one doubles team . . . Goose eggs . . . Hey Bill what do you say to Bob; Lighton; will you stop saying I'm sorry. The odds might have been against it, but we held together well, especially at Belmont Hill when the doubles finally jelled just in time. Of course, a couple of the juniors were still acting up on us; "Mackowsky, get your foot out of the fence!"—"But sir!" The record was split 5 and five this year, but watch out world! we're all depth and talent in '69.

SPRING TRACK

Varsity Track was hampered most of the spring by numerous shin splints, pulled muscles, and bad backs. However, Captain Marc Tucker displayed his capacity as a leader in unifying the team and leading them to a 4–4 season. Marc tells us that it wasn't Coach Coupe's sunny personality that drew so many track men into the training room. It was a fun season with a fun bunch of guys. Take Simon: "I'm going to take up the high hurdles, long jump, and 880." Tucker's elephant relay triumphs again. Pollak lies down on the job against Hebron. "Who did you say beat you in the highs, Art? Doogs?" Harold has his first encounter with a hurdler's mask. Tater's best race: 100 yards to the gym after the 440. Coach Keeny "pulled a stomach muscle". Doogie made it back for the elephant relay, and Lang jumped 6′3½″ for a new school record. Tucker takes over from Fred in the shot and discus: 1st at the Interschols in the discus and 2nd in the shot. Lang

Fred Lang Jumps
A Record 6′3½″.

took the high jump the same day. Sarge: "Well, I was first after 330 yards." Harold: "All right you guys—to your marks, get . . ." "Was that a false start, Pablo?" Then there's always Mr. Gosse and the six-minute mile. A promising team will be led next year by co-captains Peter Borneman and Fred Lang.

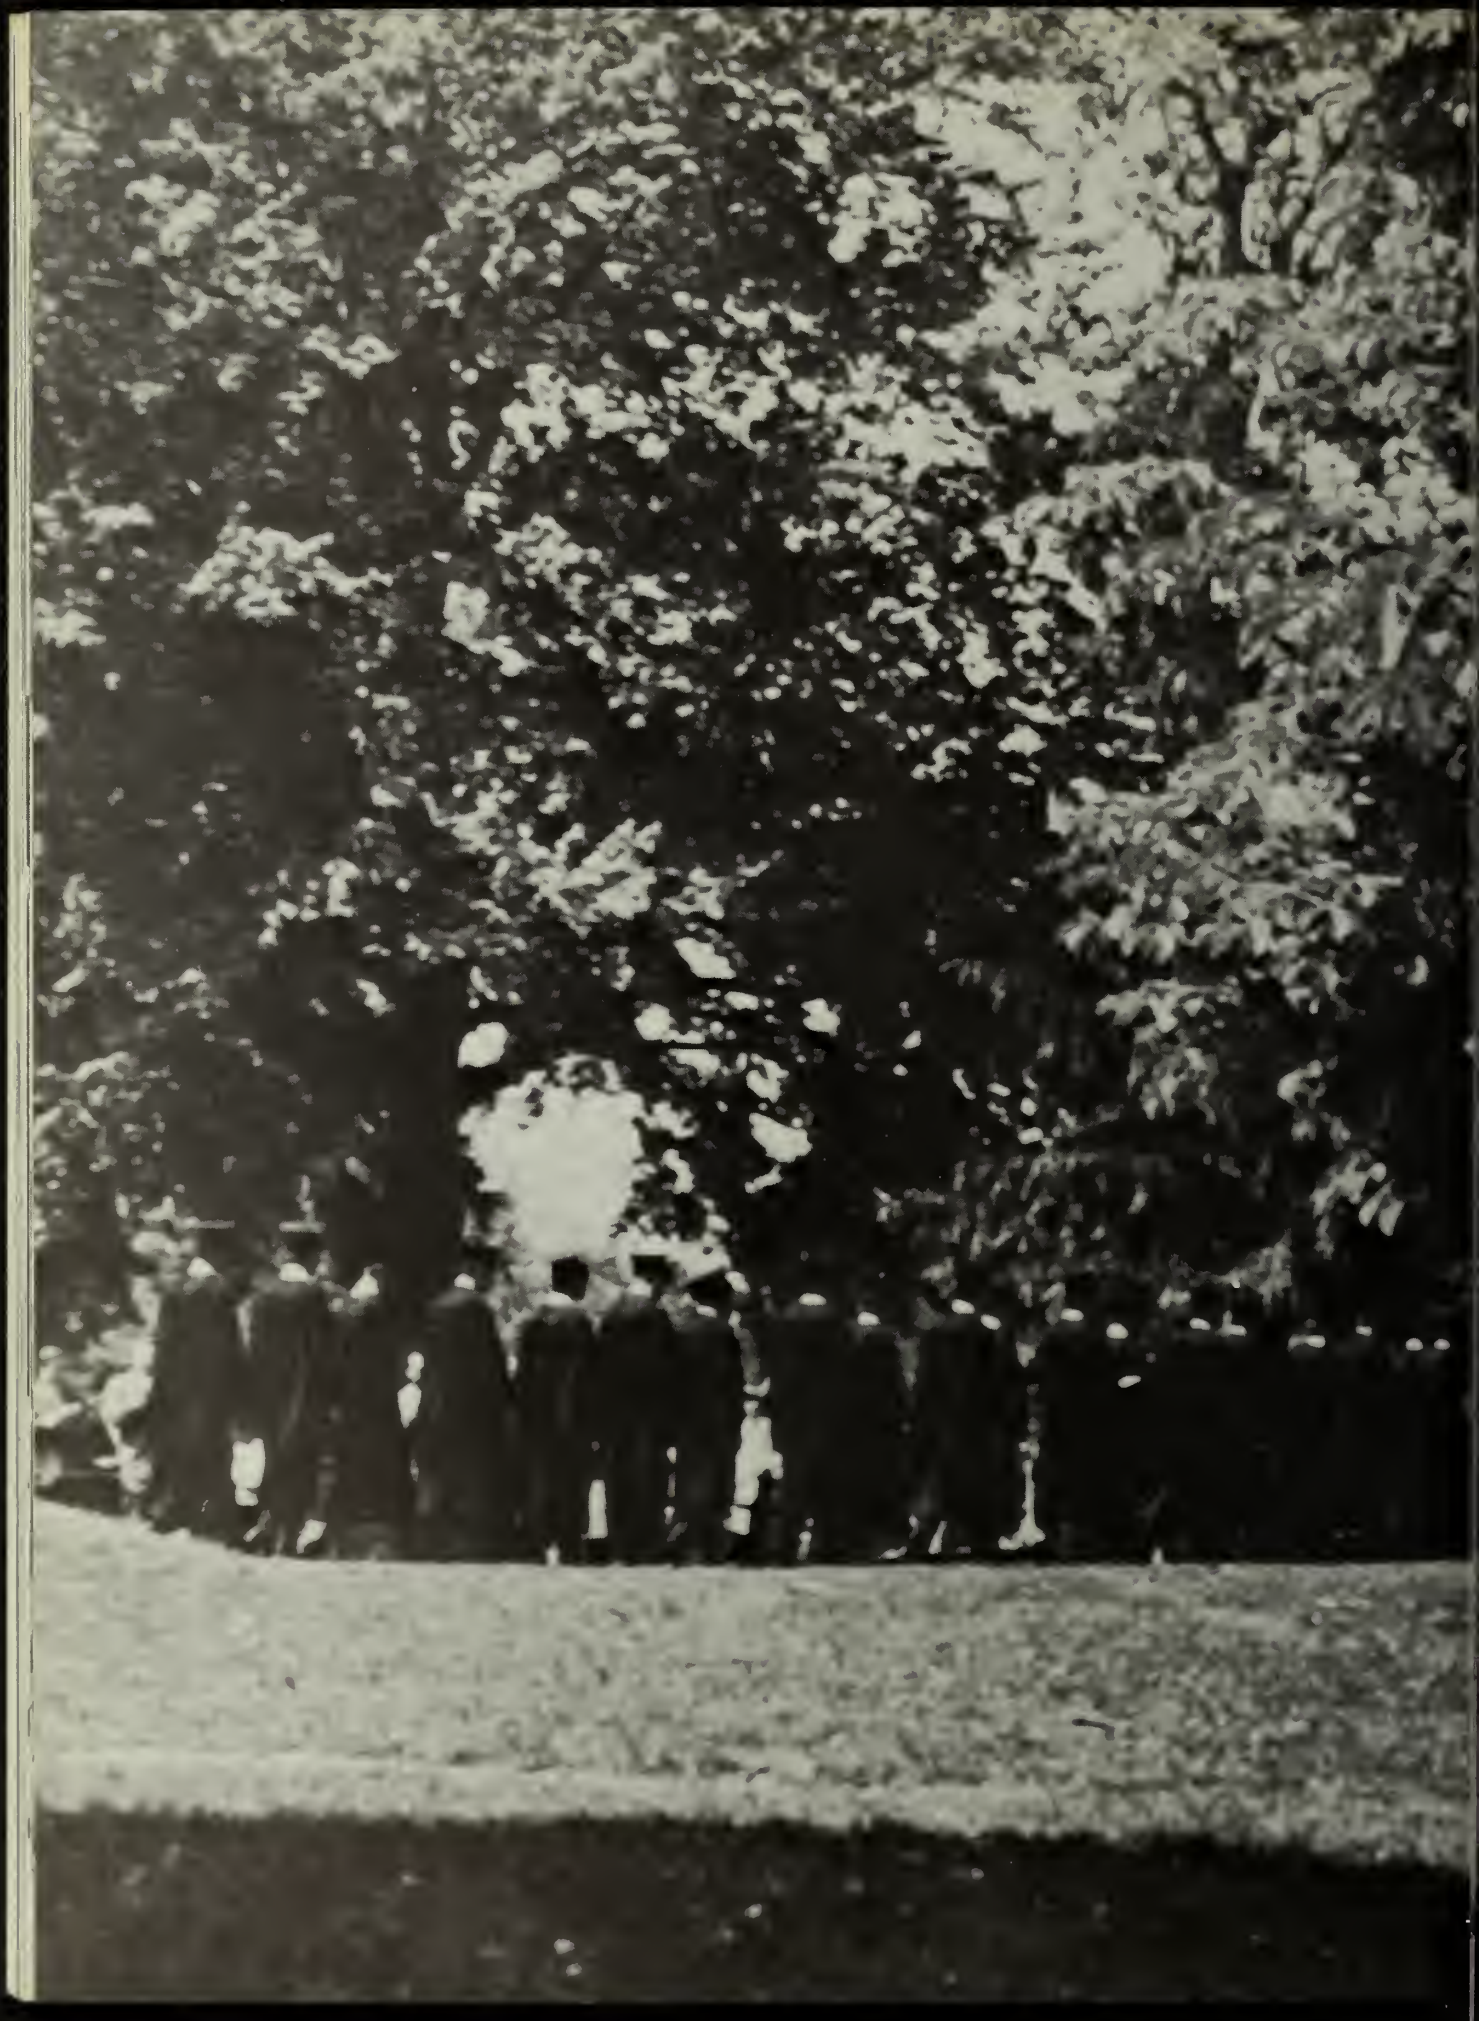
PROM WEEKEND



JUNE 1, 1968

THE MORSE FLAG

THE MORSE FLAG has been awarded each year to the senior whose record in all respects has met with the highest approval of the faculty. This year the Morse Flag is awarded to a boy who joined us three years ago and immediately set to work making use of his fine talents. He has been an honor student and one of those recently elected to the Cum Laude Society. As a varsity athlete in football and track, he has demonstrated unusual determination and poise, and he has served as secretary of the Debating Society and as a member of the "Governor" Board. And of special importance is the wisdom, the courage, and the conscientiousness he has demonstrated in his senior year responsibility as Chairman of the Dining Hall Committee.

Ability coupled with concern for others and determination to carry more than his share of the load—these characteristics mark him for leadership today and in the years to come.

On behalf of the faculty, this year's Morse Flag is presented to Peter Marshall Barkin of Manchester, New Hampshire.

THE ACADEMY PRIZE

THE ACADEMY PRIZE is awarded to that senior who by his unselfishness and sportsmanship has best exemplified the spirit of the school.

To us, of course, the key words in this citation are "has best exemplified the spirit of the school". There has never been a boy in school who has more clearly fulfilled the ideal of this prize. As captain of one of our varsity teams, he provided an extraordinary example of courage, devotion, competitive spirit, and sportsmanship even after an injury forced him to the sidelines. In the fall of 1966 he joined this class and in seven short months earned the respect and confidence which led to his election as vice president. To that role he has brought an unusual blend of understanding and firmness in dealing with student problems.

Most of all he stands out for his willingness to take a strong position, even an unpopular one, with his contemporaries. He has the courage of his convictions, but he also has the wisdom to weigh those convictions carefully. Thanks to his efforts, the spirit of the school has been strengthened and the sights of many of us have been raised.

Mr. Wilkie took very special pleasure and pride in awarding the Academy Prize to John Waldo Emerson of Roslyn Heights, New York.

In presenting the AMBROSE PRIZE SPEAKING AWARDS Mr. Wilkie said: "On every occasion when I watch one of my contemporaries struggle through the ordeal of speaking in public and each time I thrust my hands in my pockets while speaking, I think of Mr. Sager and his course. I am sure that our graduates regularly bless him for reducing their anguish each time they get to their feet."

First: Robert Terhune Stewart of Far Hills, New Jersey

Second: Peter Marshall Barkin of Manchester, New Hampshire

Third: Harry John Kangis, II of Manchester, New Hampshire.

SPECIAL PRIZES

. . . not one of those few obvious leaders of society, but he is a young man who has made a significant impact here in a quiet way and he will continue to do so in the future.
Leo Lawrence Barrett, III of Newburyport.

There has never been an age more in need of people who can and will contribute to society in a variety of ways. Conscientious student, dormitory and studyhall proctor, varsity soccer player and co-captain of wrestling, cheerleader, and a member of the "Milestone" staff, he has carried much more than his own weight in the boat.
Richard Corwine Schiess of Syracuse, New York.

Four years ago Mr. Witherspoon and Mr. Wilkie admitted a little fellow to the Class of 1968 with just a bit of apprehension. He did not appear to be outstanding in any way and his verbal scores were terrible. He has since won election to the Cum Laude Society (once he quit French), played a major role on three varsity teams and won the Most Valuable Player award in lacrosse, served as Co-Circulation Manager of the "Milestone", Chairman of the Movie Committee, and library proctor. We should have doubts about more of the boys we admit.
John Wilbur Wannop, Jr. of Wianno.

A senior who has made a tremendous contribution to the school without great fanfare. A member of Cum Laude, letter winner in soccer, hockey, and golf, co-winner of the MVP in soccer, a member of the Red Key last year, a library proctor, member of the Glee Club and the stage crew, he has most certainly demonstrated the loyalty, sense of responsibility, and perseverance for which he is honored tonight.
Stephen MacDonald Murphy of South Byfield.

. . . A young man whose career here is a real success story. During his first two years, he found himself in trouble several times. However, the list of his accomplishments this year includes a strong academic record, two varsity letters, an MVP award, Chairman of the Library Committee, Glee Club president, Meistersingers, dramatics. But most of all, he is singled out for the confidence he inspires and the position of respect he has earned among us all.
Carl Francis Spang, Jr. of Dayton, Ohio.

Top level leadership is a challenge for some, a burden to fear and avoid for others. But for all it requires courage and self-sacrifice. If man is to live with man, leadership there must be, and we are fortunate to have those who will accept the role. Tonight I want to thank publicly and award this prize to the Senior Class President for all he has done for the school and for me.
David Spencer Mitchell of Palo Alto, California.

GOODWIN ATHLETIC PRIZE

The winner this year has had a most remarkable athletic career, but he has also excelled in his academic work and as a student leader. In athletics his performances have been noteworthy for his tremendous competitive drive, his unflagging spirit and strength, his dedication to team rather than self. A letterman in three sports, he was co-captain of football, captain of spring track, and the key play-maker in basketball. In my experience, few athletes have better exemplified all that is best in amateur athletics.
Mark Kray Tucker of Newburyport.

GAFFNEY PRIZE

Leadership can be accomplished in a variety of ways. The winner of this prize demonstrated unusual judgment and consideration of others in providing quiet, forceful leadership for his team. At all times, the interest of the group controlled his own actions. He won the respect of all in his role as basketball co-captain and recipient of the MVP award.
James Frederick Brooks of Wayzata, Minnesota.

CUMMINGS PRIZE

It would be difficult to imagine a young man with greater perseverance and continued good spirits in pursuing his goals. He has played an active role on the "Governor", in our community tutoring service, and in the Press Club. Most of all, he is a baseball enthusiast second to none and yet he has not had the physical prowess necessary to play on the team here. Utterly undaunted, he has served for two years as probably the best manager the team has ever known. In fact, at all practices he would appear to be the playing manager. No disappointment, no obstacle will ever keep him from giving his very best in his chosen endeavors.
William Marshall Degen of Middletown, New York.

Nobody knows how many hundreds of thousands of people will dine tonight with TOWLE Sterling — but the actual number would be startling. For in the two-and-a-half centuries that beautiful silver has been made in Newburyport, the demand for its patterns has moved steadily upward. Craft traditions reaching back almost to the Pilgrims are part of the reason for TOWLE progress, but probably the chief reason is a certain soundness of design — patterns that wear well — that wear so well, in fact, that they become at once a proud possession and a beloved part of family life.
